

SPECIAL DISCOUNT FOR BIGS AND LITTLES AT PHILADELPHIA'S MAGIC GARDENS

Looking for somewhere new and exciting to go with your Little? Why not try visiting Philadelphia's Magic Gardens! Philadelphia's Magic Gardens is a folk art environment, gallery space and nonprofit organization that showcases the work of mosaicist Isaiah Zagar. Located at the site of Zagar's largest public mosaic installation, the Magic Gardens includes a fully mosaiced indoor gallery and a massive outdoor labyrinthine mosaic sculpture. The installation, primarily consisting of found objects and contributions from the community, covers half a city block with tile, texture and color. A walk through the labyrinth will reveal sculptures from Latin America and Asia, bicycle wheels from local South Street shop Via Bicycles, Zagar's hand-made tiles, and mirrors of every shape and size.

At Philadelphia's Magic Gardens you can enjoy:

- From January to December, Bigs and Littles receive reduced priced tours and entrance. Take an hour-long guided tour to view Isaiah Zagar's glittering creations! Led by a trained Philadelphia's Magic Gardens interpreter, you'll learn interesting information about Zagar's technique along with the personal and community stories depicted in his large, shimmering murals. Tours are scheduled every Saturday and Sundays at 2 p.m.
- Don't have time for a guided tour? From Wednesday-Monday 11am-6pm, receive discounted entrance for the general admission to see 3,000 square feet of mosaiced space. Littles will love the tunnels, colorful tiles and glittering mirrors.
